Look How Far We've Come!

The theme, "Look How Far We've Come!" captures the idea that our developmental steps have faded away and the time has come to follow the footsteps of our parents to help the younger generation. Our infancy, toddler, and childhood stages have prepared us for the next phase in life, a period of acquiring knowledge and beginning the learning process. As a toddler, our first steps were taken to find the pathway to the light. As a child, the start of knowledge involved learning the "A, B, Cs" and counting numbers. This period was the start of our own talents and creative skills in art. It was a period of imagination and the beginning of feelings such as love, sadness, or pain. It was a period that will always live in us and the memories will be recalled and utilized when we begin to care for our own little ones.

The next phase, youth and teens, has been the highlight in our lives, a time when we realize that life is a mixture of harsh times and happy moments. During this time, we learn about relationships and feelings for others, and decide on future careers and goals. Although this period may involve both good and bad experiences, much knowledge is gained from it. It is the beginning of adulthood, the time to start a career and set future goals, to see new aspects of life and different directions.

Finally, we become adults who are able to pass down our knowledge to the younger generation. The focus becomes the children who one day will be the future leaders. It is our duty to teach them well and support them through the phases of life. Thus, we become a part of the human continuum. The same process repeats itself, but each generation looks back on its own unique history and says, "Look How Far We've Come!"

Through the hard times, the light always shone at the end, leaving a beautiful rainbow created through your shining selves. Thank you for all of your hard work and the time spent working on the annual, especially to Mrs. Ellis, our advisor. Thank you for all the love and happiness you shared with us. You always made every day a happy one. You're a person filled with much love, and although you were a beginner, you were a pro to us.

Then To Now

Look how far we've come from infancy! We went through many changes and grew both mentally and physically. Yet, we still have the same needs.

As infants we needed food, clothing, shelter, and sleep. As teenagers, we still have the same needs but with a different twist. When we need clothes, we go out with friends to buy them. When hunger strikes, there's no need to cry; all we have to do is go to the cafeteria and pick up a lunch or two. Shelter is our favorite hangout, whether it's the shopping mall, beach, or even a place in school. Our sleep habits remain the same, except for when and where we sleep. Since school starts early and lasts for about six hours, we take our naps in school.

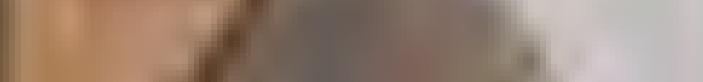

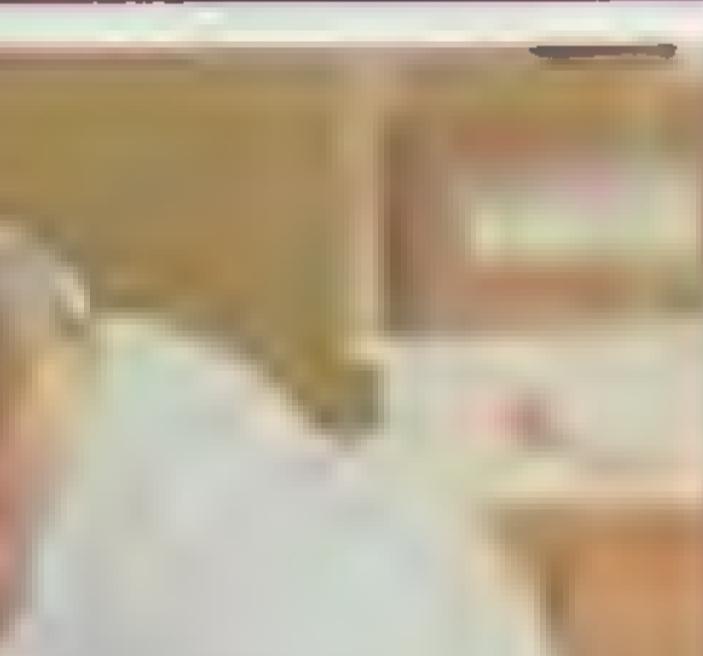

We've come a long way from infancy. We've given our physical dependency a new twist.

Bottom Left: As babies, our needs were provided for us. Now we take responsibility to support ourselves. Here, Shelly Taylor (left) smiles happily as she enjoys the fruits of pain. Bottom Middle: The time of babyness will be in all of us, as mother, like Anna, and age of our lives. Here, Christina, Christal, and Michelle are living back memories of their childhood. Bottom Right: Thanks to her parents, baby Jennifer Martin has a life worker to help her learn her first steps. Now we take our own steps that lead us to the future. Top Left: Tom Lee, Danielle Carbone, and Lucy Hoffmann display the world they have built over the years and share their childhood memories of growing up together. Top Right: We were once children with dependent parents. The time has come for us to take care of ourselves and to assume the responsibility that our parents have placed upon us here. Charlotte Lee is always around to lend a hand.

Blocks To Breakthrough

"One, two, thr ... OOPS!"

That time in our lives was many years ago and yet it seems like just yesterday. It was a time when every little thing was a major accomplishment e.g., our first few steps, and our first word. Look how far we've come from our first castle made with our building blocks, now we're building such complex things as desks and lamps in wood shop. Every goal is much harder to reach, but achieving that goal is much more rewarding. Just as we took first steps as toddlers, we now take our first steps into adulthood. It is no longer look how far we've come, but look how far we're going.

Top Left: As a little girl we remember rattling our little toys and swinging our hearts out. Here, Wendy Fujimoto continues that experience with a bigger heart, a bigger smile, and a creative cheer. Top Middle: Little Lacy Tojo unknowingly builds, strengthens, and trains coordination through simple child's play. Little does she know that the games children play help them later in life. Top right: For Mike Honma, childhood play seems to have paid off. The skills and coordination he acquired as a toddler seem to have helped him with his athletic abilities in high school sports. Middle left: Little Dara Ching enjoys waving her rattle around, not realizing that one day she too may also be a cheerleader. The joy that a toddler receives from jumping and screaming can help a child's physical abilities in the future. Bottom left: Jennifer Martin takes the first step into the world of computer science. The computer industry has developed into a major part of society, education, and the future. Elementary schools are now preparing students for the fast growing technology of today's world. Bottom right: Here, I.G. Tran, with the help of Mrs. Peggy DeZain, learns more about the computer and what it has to offer. This learning will be valuable in the future.

The period of childhood is known as the "golden age," a period bringing bright faces, happy smiles and loving tender hearts. We were all children once growing up to be what we are today — leaders of the future.

Do you remember being a child, living in a world of imagination and creativity? Suzy Hottmann, grade 12, remembers

"I remember when I was three I had an imaginary friend named Bam. My family went shopping and we were leaving the parking lot and I realized that we had left 'Bam' in the store. I cried and screamed much that my dad had to turn around and rescue my imaginary friend."

This golden age will never be forgotten, but transferred to our own children one day J.R. Cowell stated, "The children are God's apostles, sent forth day by day to preach of love and hope and peace."

Bottom Right: Students learn to appreciate an education as a school. The knowledge they acquire as youngsters will help them later as they continue. Bottom Left: These students learn that getting a good education can sometimes be hard work. Unfair as it sometimes may seem, it can be a valuable lesson. It teaches us to cope with problems at an early age. It also teaches us that if we really want something we must work for it. Top Left: We've all heard the saying, "If you don't know where you're going, you'll end up someplace else." Now we must go out on our own and seek knowledge from others. Raquel Coconato concentrates on gathering data in chemistry class. Top Middle: Donna Buckley is caught up executing her ideas in drawing class. Top Right: The Junior Class of Pearl City shows spirit and creativity through the pom poms, banners, and class shirts made for homecoming. This is a practical application of the creative force in the arts.

Bras To Be Seen

Old Ties-New Ties

Youth is the transition time between childhood and young adulthood. It is the time when we experience having our first boyfriend or girlfriend, or attending our first dance. It is a time in our lives when a wrinkle is unheard of, but pimples become prominent. Now when we look back at our childish little times and immature fights, we can all chuckle. Look how far we've come, from little boys and girls to maturing young adults. We've grown together through the years to form a new generation. We take our first real steps into adolescence and face it head on. Our range of emotions expand. We feel love, hurt, and anger more intensely, and we try to understand ourselves better.

- Jham readies himself for his first performance
- Top Left: The Sophomore Class gets into the spirit of things at the pep rally. Top Right: Myleana Luna and Makia Oshiro demonstrate the art of listening while dancing in "Simon Says". Middle: The Varsity Football team awaits the team cheer. Bottom Left: The fairytale contestants display their cuteness. Bottom Right: The seniors Resistuta Funtanilla, May Somera, and Anna got into the beat.

Independence

Hang up the phone

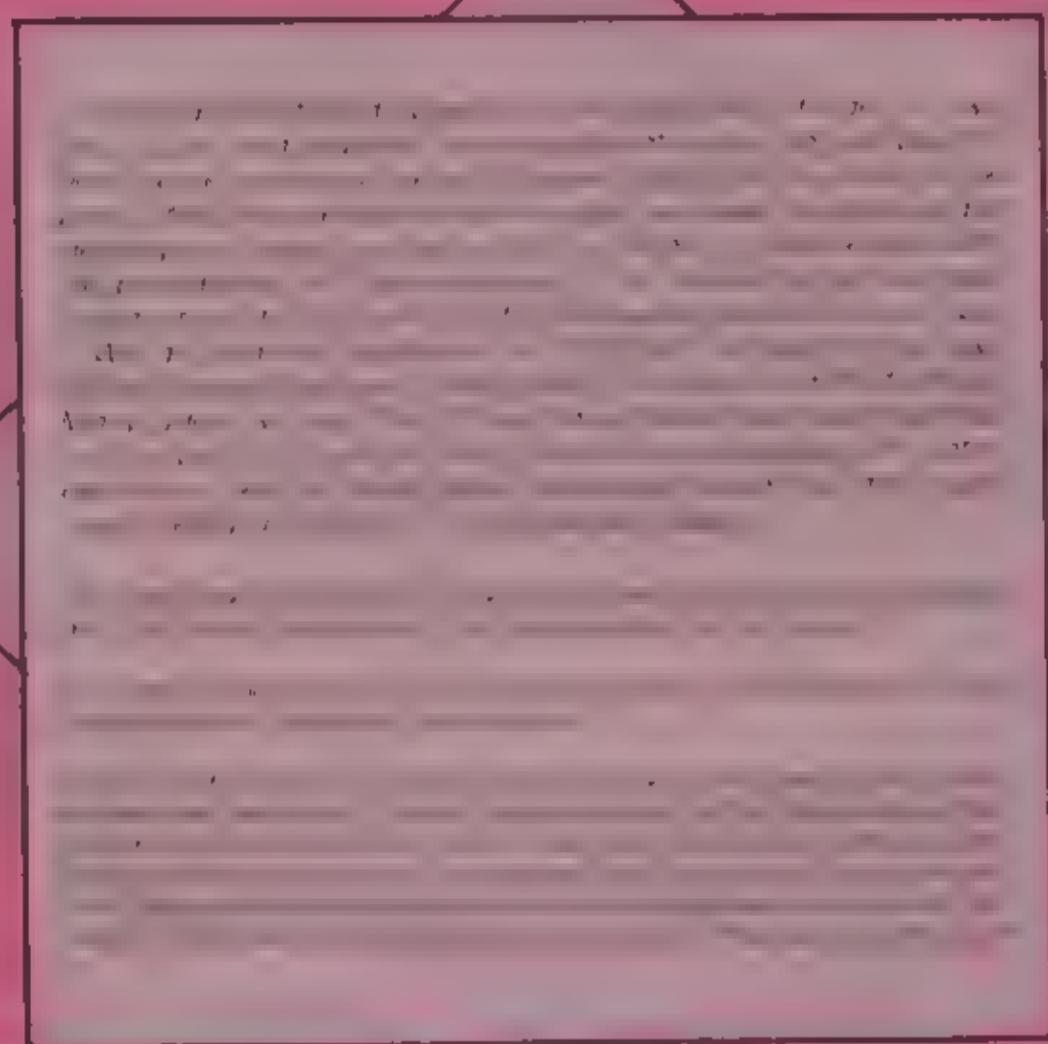

Hurry up get out of the bathroom!

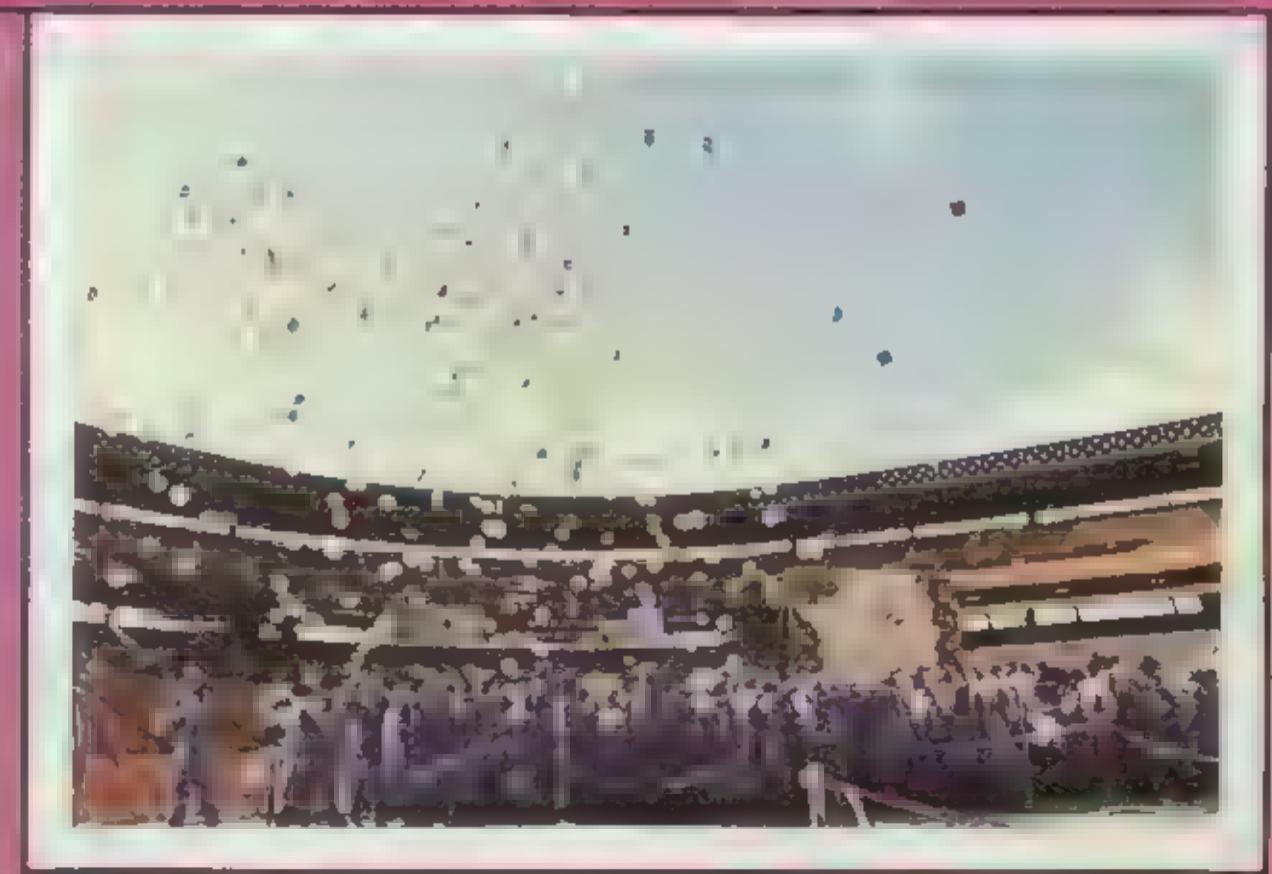

These are everyday phrases that are familiar to all of us teens. This is the time in our lives when we live for our social activities. We talk on the phone for hours, and we go out every weekend. Remember your first prom? Maybe even your first kiss? We'll never have another set of teenage years, so let's make the most of them while we can so that we can recall these times with special memories.

Left "Friends forever" is a saying that will always live between friends. For all of us who grew up with friends they are a part of our past.

To Expanding Horizons

Sharon?

Thank you for being my friend. I won't forget ya?
Well do you remember the time we both went to Pearl Ridge and to get our Pom-Poms? Remember those guys? I had fun. Boy can you "believe we are Almost not  $\rightarrow$  Freshmen" anymore?
I can't. I had fun at homecoming. I'm glad we went together. Remember when we were at the Aloha
Stadium game and I kept wanting to go see Brandon.
I thought he was so-o cute? Boy, I made a big mistake with him. Thanks for all the advice.

LOVE ya like a
Sis

Did you ever wonder how our cheerleaders and adagios got to be so good? Well, all of this started towards the end of March, 1986. This was just the beginning of the rough, eight week cheerleader try-outs. At the end of these weeks, the cream of the crop was chosen. Although not everyone made it, everyone was a winner. Here, we surprised Junior Varsity Cheerleader Candace Kukahiko who shows off her incredible flexibility in an impressive scissors split.

Tiffany plans to make the most of her high school years. She hopes to continue to have fun, work hard, and be involved through graduation and college.

This year's Sophomore Homecoming attendants are Todd Anzai and Dayna Hamamoto

Both Todd and Dayna said that although they had never dreamed of being on a court, they are glad they did run for the Homecoming Court because the experience of winning was a great feeling, and they got to meet a lot of special people and make lasting friends.

Todd, who is active as a baseball player, including playing for Pearl City High School's Junior Varsity Baseball team, has always wanted to become a professional baseball player.

Dayna, however, wanted to be a flight attendant when she was younger, but she has become more practical and now wants to be a pharmacist.

Congratulations to both these stylish Sophomores on being this year's Sophomore Homecoming Attendants.

Most students look at A's and B's as pleasant surprises, but there is one Stylish Sophomore who looks at an A as a part of his lifestyle and sees a B as a devastating disappointment. This person is Carl Chun. He is the only member of our class of 1989 to receive straight A's every quarter in our first year at Pearl City High School and he's continuing his winning ways in his sophomore year. However, he is the one to tell you that straight A's are not easy to get. He has to put in hours of hard work every night and must sacrifice time from some of his hobbies. He does, however, have time to be our class historian, and a member of the math team. He also knows that he can not take grades for granted as just a couple of years ago in intermediate school he suffered what even the average student could consider bad grades. Well, keep up the good work Carl and good luck in the future.

Did you know

Did you know that being a Sophomore is like a stepping-stone to freedom? For example, you're finally old enough to get your driver's license! That could mean having drive-in dates, not being dropped off at the beach by your parents, and especially, not catching the bus to school. Of course, you have to do things that you wouldn't normally want to do, like taking your baby sister to the library with three of her friends. On the other hand, it's not only a stepping stone to freedom, but a second step of your highschool life. During your Sophomore year you can go to another activity that you couldn't go to when you were a Freshman. Freshman the Sophomore Banquet. Being a Sophomore starts you feeling better about yourself. You join more clubs and activities that you didn't join before. You start to make the most of your high school years. But the best part of being a Sophomore is remembering that you only have two more years left of school!

Though it was closed to only sophomores of PCHS the event turned out to be a lot of fun for all who attended. The evening was highlighted by the talent show, hoss elections, awards slide show and of course dinner. After dinner, the sophomores danced the night away under the sparkling array of dance floor lights. It was the culmination of the Class of 1989's arrival as sophomores and the next step on the road to graduation.*

When asked how she thought the Sophomore Banquet was going to turn out Lyana Atsumi, Sophomore Banquet Chairperson commented, "Our Sophomore Banquet was a tremendous success because of our advisor Mrs. Hope Koyama, and the fabulous sophomores that helped out to make it happen! Much aloha to everyone who helped. Mrs. C Martin, and Dean Kokubun (last year's chairperson)!"

Being involved in athletics, class council, and other extracurricular activities can take up a student's time. However, one sophomore manages to do all of the above and still achieve academic excellence. That person is Stacey Sato.

Not only is she a member of the Pearl City Varsity Tennis and Soccer teams, but she also is the sophomore class vice-president. She is a member of the Interact Club, the Student Government, Spirit Committee, and plays the clarinet in the marching band. Even with all these activities and responsibilities, Stacy still managed to make the Honor Roll with a 3.83 grade point average.

Stacey sets a good example that all Sophomores should follow by being active in extracurricular activities and showing school and class spirit while also remembering that her school work is important.

Keep up the good work and congratulations, Stacey

Setting The Pace

Vice-Principals Diana Oshiro and Theodore Fisher pose for pictures with Dr. Herman Aizawa after the stadium ground breaking ceremonies on a triumphant day for the Pearl City High Chargers

Principal's Message

Life at Pearl City High School today is very different compared to when the school first opened its doors to the initial freshmen class in 1971. We began with a student body of about 400 and have grown to the 2450 students that are here today. Over the 16 years buildings have been added and the landscaping has evolved and taken hold. The re-painting of the buildings and the construction of the football stadium this year will complete one of the major changes of the campus in the history of the school. Our thousands of graduates have done well. We are proud of all of them and many have gone on to very successful professional careers. Doctors, lawyers, legislators, educators, engineers and business professionals in the rolls of successful graduates of Pearl City High.

Our school is maturing into a very fine institution of learning. As the school has developed the curriculum and co-curricular activities have grown and improved to meet the needs of the student body. Supplements and honors programs are more evident today and student clubs, athletics, and student government have developed many excellent programs over the years. The school and the community have grown with each other and every year the partnership becomes stronger as we work together to provide the best possible learning environment for our students.

Look How Far We've Come? Yes Pearl City High has changed and we know the future will continue to provide further opportunities for growth and improvement. Our students demonstrate responsibilities and respect have pride in themselves in what they do and in our school. Our staff is committed to provide challenging and interesting classroom instruction and help in all of our student activities. Our parents encourage and support our efforts. I know that with working together - Teamwork for Success - we will accomplish our goals and make the 1980-81 school year the best. It is not "Look How Far We've Come" anymore rather it's "Look How Far We Are Going". Teamwork and the CHARGER spirit will insure continued success and achievement at Pearl City High.

Me ke aloha pumehana,

Dr. Herman M. Aizawa
Principal

Close-Up With Ms. Mae Tsugawa

"Tsugawa" — the name strikes terror into many students' hearts. For others, there are nothing but fond memories of the Lady known to some as "the Sarge."

Prior to teaching at PCHS, Ms. Tsugawa taught at Alamanu Intermediate. She came to Pearl City in 1971, when the school first opened. She recalls being at the "top" in B404 (her first room), and now is currently in K301. She stated, "I guess I was on top, but not any more."

Ms. Tsugawa remembers back to when we had our first class. The school has grown tremendously since then. She stated that big is not always better because the teacher has a harder time having a personal relationship with each student. "When I first got here, we didn't have a cafeteria so students would eat their lunches in the class room. I still remember what happened when we forgot to empty the slop pails. Sometime we'd forget them over the weekend, and, to put it modestly when we returned the smell was overpowering!"

When Ms. Tsugawa was asked why she decided to teach Social Studies, she replied, "I enjoy history but I really believe in heterogeneous groups and the interaction with people from many different backgrounds."

When asked what she remembers from the first year at PCHS, she said, "The kids used to put on skits. During one of these skits the students borrowed a whip that my father gave me as a gift (must have had a deep psychological message with it). Well, some blankety blank stole it." She added, "I'll always have very fond memories of Pearl City."

Many have grown to respect and admire this dedicated teacher. You not only learn something about history in her class, but you learn about yourself as well. Many have found that Ms. Tsugawa's bark is much worse than her bite. "Just a little joke there, class!" Oh, and by the way, does anyone want to join "Tsugawa's Coffee Club"?

The Social Studies Department show their pioneer spirit and love of history in this Civil War pose. The members of the department are M. Borges, J. Doughty, J. Ing, D. Kagawa, J. Kawano, H. Koyama, J. Masaki, J. Matsuoka, N. McKenzie, W. Sogum, K. Shimane, A. Strawn, M. Tsugawa, P. Wagner, S. Weatherwax, H. Yoshikane

Cafeteria

Do you live to eat? Or do you eat to live? Whatever you answer is, you still need food to fill up that empty space below your chest and above your belly button.

One of the indispensable services at Pearl City High is the cafeteria food preparation. Under the cheerful and competent management of Mrs. Molly Inouye, the cafeteria staff has worked hard to provide a new variety of tasty treats such as shakes (chocolate, strawberry, orange, and vanilla), a salad line, a soup and sandwich combo, and, of course the usual hot meal. In the midst of inflation, the school lunch still remains a bargain at 45¢. There's nothing like a friendly visit over a hearty, nutritious meal. Have lunch with a friend, visit the PCHS Restaurant.

The Cafeteria Staff includes L. Cho, B. Estaniquil, T. Hiramoto, D. Nakasone, E. Namba, K. Oshiro, P. Root, L. Suehiro, M. Yamada, F. Sato, and M. Yamase.

ORGANIZATIONS

This year's student government officers worked hard with a lot of help and support from the classes. The major force behind them all was Mrs. Mike Ishihara (a.k.a. "Ish").

The annual activities (i.e. Homecoming, Winterball, Song Fest, and May Fair) were all successful. Top priorities of the student council were school spirit and pride. The hard work, dedication, and leadership of the student government officers paid off and helped to make this year a memorable one.

To the Interact, Key and Leo Clubs, NHS, the class campus beautification chairpersons sub-chairpersons, and all the students and advisors that helped so much. Thank You for your Alohal — Beautification Committee

In May of 1986 Christina Oshiro and her committee took on the task of the Homecoming Committee. Soon, October 3 came upon us. Homecoming week activities started us off with a bang. Then, the Pep-rally, the parade and the football game activities escalated spirits to new heights. On the next night, the dance and the presentation of the court ended Homecoming '86 with laughter, joy, and a touch of sadness. This committee did an excellent job and gave P.C.H.S. one of its best Homecomings ever. Chairman Christina Oshiro would like to say,

If more are expected, add 2 rabbits. Do this only if necessary as most people do not like to find a hare in their stew.

Miss PCHS And . . .

"This is such an unexpected honor!" exclaimed Michele Nakasone, after being notified of the results. "I'm very proud to have the chance to represent Pearl City High."

I'd like to thank my Dad and Mom for giving me their love and support. Without it I never would have come this far. I hope they are as proud of me as I am of them.

To my friends, thank you for all your caring. You've filled my high school years with wonderful memories that I'll always cherish.

And to the Mighty Chargers, take advantage of the opportunities that are open to you at Pearl City High School. Become aware of what is happening and get involved. Have confidence in yourself and always do your best. Make the most of your time and you'll have no regrets.

I'm very grateful for this honor. I have enjoyed my four years here at Pearl City High, and this title just adds to my happiness.

I would deeply like to thank my family and friends. All of your help, love, and support has made me what I am today. I especially would like to thank Sid, Dannie, Lani, and Suzy. You are the greatest friends anyone could ever ask for! And to Sid, you are truly my best friend and that says it all.

Well, my high school years will come to an end, but I will never forget the four totally awesome years that I spent here at PCHS. It's sad to think of what is ahead of me, but you have to set goals and try your best to attain them even if it means departing from your friends. Letting go is just another way to say, "I love you."

The 1986 Homecoming Court

Queen Michele Nakasone King David
Mikell

Junior Attendant Todd Miyahara

The Homecoming Court reigned over the Homecoming festivities from October 3-4, 1986. They graced the pep-rally, parade, football game, and dance. The court had less than two weeks to learn the dance. Chosen to graphing the dance was Renee Haggio, Wendy Fujimoto, Marlene Higa, and Sid Kuriwai. They danced to "The Glory of Love" by Peter Cetera. Court chairperson Renee Haggio said "The court does a job and they did a great job!"

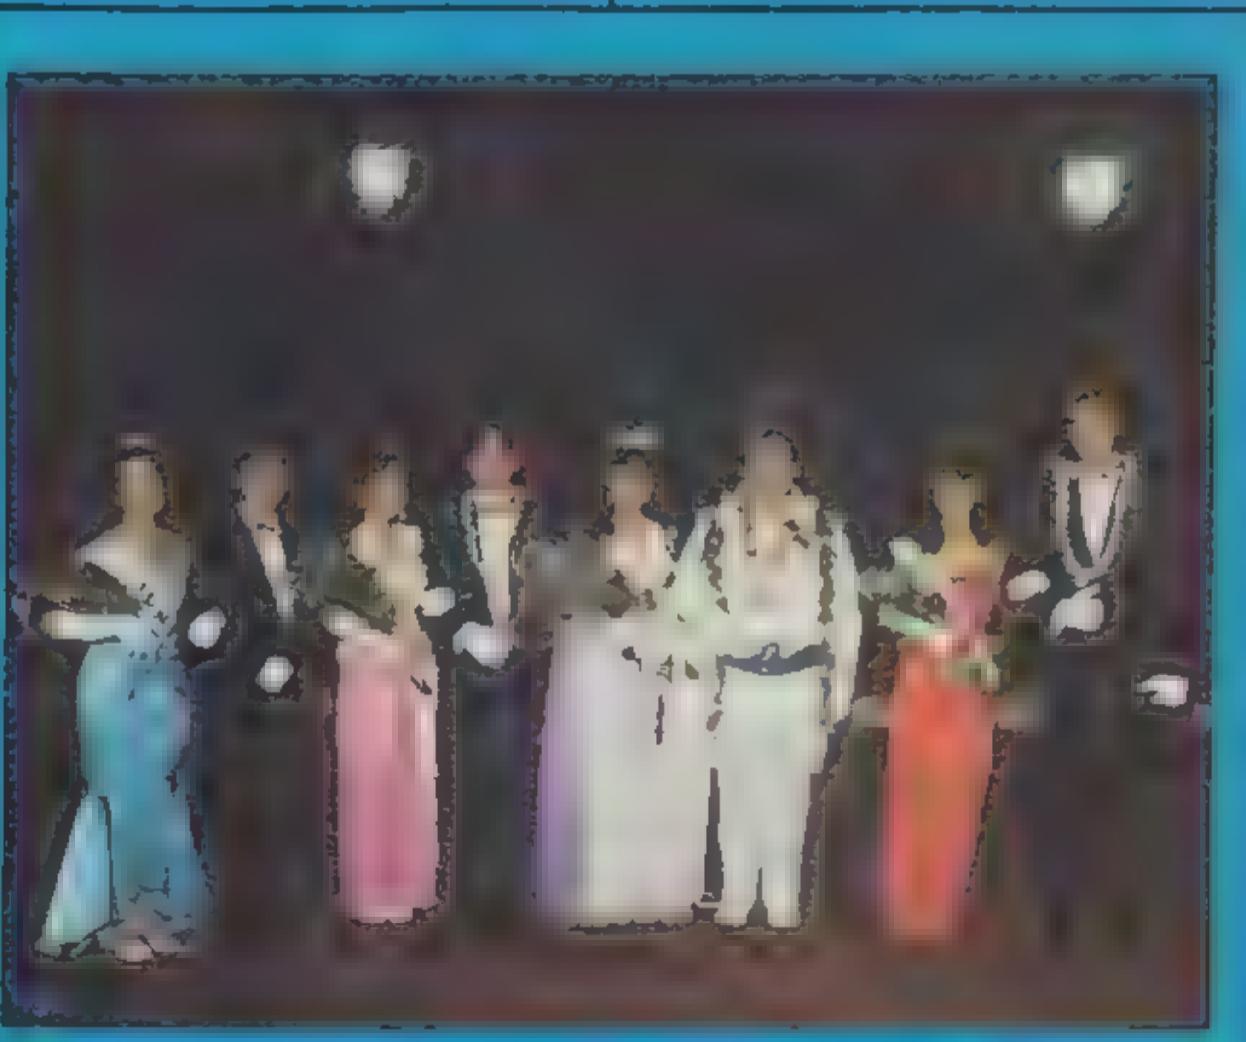

Homecoming '86 is something the court members will treasure always. Queen Michele Nakasone remembered when she was in the seventh grade. My father took my friend and me to watch the 1982 Homecoming parade. I was in awe. Every one looked so sprited and knew that I would try to get involved by helping to build the float and by marching in the parade. Not only did I consider being a court member, but my attendant Leina Hinahara, expressed I was very proud to have represented the class of 87. In her third year, Todd Anzai, the sophomore escort, got a little something extra out of this experience. In the joint of new friends from being a part of the court. And now they are all my close friends.

All the court members would like to express their thanks to their families and friends for all their help and support. junior attendant Babette Davis would like to say thanks to Terry Laybon for putting in her make up.

The 1986 Winterball Court

King Burr Sutter & Queen Wilette Andrade

The 1986 Winterball was held on December 24, 1986, at the Ilikai Hotel in the Pacific Ballroom. The evening's colors were red and gold and contributed to a beautiful Christmas atmosphere. The Winterball was a special night, one to be treasured forever in our hearts.

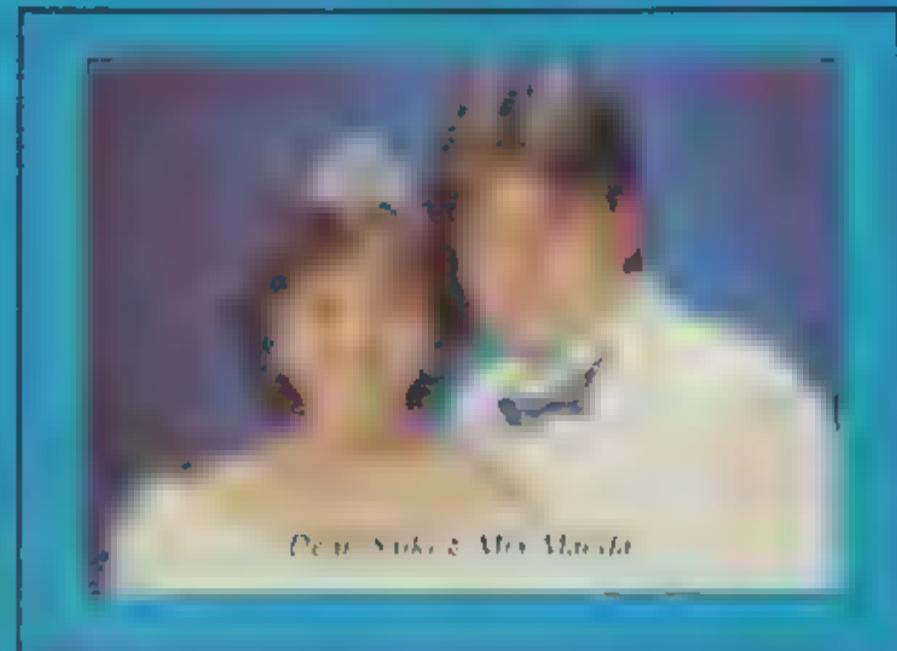

Winterball Queen Wilette Andrade felt honored and happy for being a special part of making another Winterball. She was thankful to her family and friends for being there to help her achieve her goals in athletics and academics. She expressed to her friends "I wouldn't have made it without you guys."

Burr Sutter, our Winterball king, thanked all who supported him. Although his years at PCHS were short, he enjoyed being part of the student body and found no place as wonderful as PCHS. To his fellow classmates he said "I challenge you all to do everything you can to make your future years memorable as can be."

"Till the End of Time", by Starpoint, was the theme of the glorious evening. The prom was held at the Prince Kuhio Grand Ballroom. The colors were royal blue and silver.

The entire court wished to express their appreciation to all who voted and encouraged them through this memorable time. To all, a warm thank you.

Juniors Unite!

Homecoming The time of year when the whole class comes together and a feeling of class and school pride takes over. This year, there were the usual activities in which each class could show their pride and unity, while competing against the other classes. Such activities were the Dress Up Week, the Pep-Rally Cheering competition, Spirit March, Pre-Game Cheering Competition and Tight Squeeze. All of these activities proved to be a success in bringing Ka Ohana O '88 closer together as there were many new Juniors placed a close second. Good work Juniors!

This year's Homecoming theme was Fairy Tales, and Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs was the Junior theme. Float chairperson Tracee Kono and her committee worked hard during the month of September to turn out an awesome float. Float making sessions were held in D-203 after school and at Tricia Tamayose's and Michelle Kim's home during the evenings. The Junior float was the only float this year to have real flowers.

Spirit March chairperson, Jamie Yamauchi, and her committee worked with the school's sewing machines to make dwarf hats for all the marchers, who, adorned with hats and pom-poms, chanted to the Seven Dwarfs' song.

This year's Class of '88 Representatives strove to better represent the one hundred students for which each stood. But to do this, they needed to hear what the other Juniors had to say. So Juniors everywhere voted, suggested, and even complained by turning in their ideas into a suggestion box in one of the Junior English classes. This gave all Juniors the right for their voices to be heard. Keep speaking out, Juniors!

What I've learned about life so far

"... I've learned that in life you've got to live one day at a time. You can't live for the future or you'll miss out on the present and if you live in the past, you have nothing to look forward to."

Sharon Tamura

"... I've learned that people should appreciate what they already have. Some people, they don't really know how lucky they are to have all the things they do have, are always in want for more."

Kim Yamatsuka

"... life is like an adventurous game where one is always looking to get his goals with the risk of losing something, but being adventurous as he is he keeps going on."

"... I've learned that life is not always what we want it to be, but that with determination and patience we can make life the way we wish it to be."

She is the woman behind the scenes who never gets any acknowledgement, yet does a lot of work. Without her, our class council would have been lost. Her room, D203 was used for committee sign-ups, council and committee meetings, and storage. She feels that this year's council has improved because there were more people involved, and everyone worked well as a team. When asked what her goals are for senior year, she replied, "To survive. Nah. To come out better than we went in."

The class of 88 had their Junior Prom on March 28, 87 at the Outrigger Prince Kuhia hotel from 5:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. The theme was "Till the End of Time" and the colors were royal blue and silver. The music was provided by P.M. Sounds and all who attended were served a sit down dinner of Breast of Chicken, tossed greens with choice of dressings, baked potato with condiments, a dinner roll and fruit punch. A dessert of ice cream and cookies was also served. When interviewed before the Junior Prom, chairperson Michelle Toyooka stated, "I hope everything turns out all right." Also here are some of the reactions of a few members of the court when asked, "How do you feel about representing your class?"

Surprised, happy and proud to represent the class and thankful to the people who voted for me. I didn't think I'd get in. I guess that's why I was surprised.

Juniors Shine!

The class of 88 has many talented members, who excel in many different fields. A few such members are Clifford Sanddad, Peter Lanting and Jarvis Torres of the dance group Soul Sonic Force, and Carlton Ige number 88, on our Varsity football team.

When interviewing Clifford of Soul Sonic Force we found that they formed their group in the eighth grade "to please the people. Everybody was into popping, locking, and breaking. It was the fad," said Clifford. Since then, Soul Sonic Force has earned six trophies and five plaques in such competitions as 1984's Brown Bags to Stardom and Hawaii High. They also perform at various restaurants and hotels, and occasionally perform at parties with Professor Fun. Not only does their talent for dancing shine, but they also design their own clothes and mix their own music.

Carlton Ige, a wide receiver on our varsity football team, started playing for Pearl City's pop Warner team in the seventh grade. When asked why he chose football he said, "It was my favorite sport and my coaches told me I had potential to be a good player so I took it to heart and practiced." Carlton plans to continue to play throughout his highschool and college years. He had these things to say to his fellow students. For all other students, football is one of the better sports. It shows team unity and individual personality all put together. Football is a challenge, both mentally and physical.

"Great job, Juniors! Ka Ohana O 88 is proud of you!"

*Junior Varsity Football, Novices
With Heart*

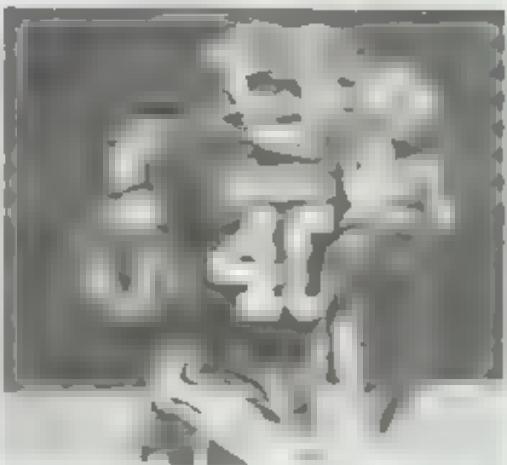

The Junior Varsity Team-Novices with Heart-ended their season with a three game victory. A young team, striving hard, was affected by the 20 grade system that was not defined for the new comers. It was a confusion that could have caused the team to achieve a better record. Still, the team worked hard and learned not only playing skills but discipline in all areas in life. The team also gained self-confidence in striving for goals and in what they believed in. As stated by Percy Ducasin, "Our J.V. is awesome. We started off very slow but we challenged very tough. I am proud that we at least were victorious for the last 3 games." The team titled "Novices with Heart" was given this name, because although the team had a low record, they are a team with a big HEART.

Under the new leadership of Coach Ben Ronquillo, this year's varsity football went a long way

Coming off a 2-6 record last year, the team finished with a record of 6 wins and 2 losses. They finished second in the Leeward District behind Waianae, a team which slipped by Pearl City by only one point

The team also accomplished other feats. The defense allowed the least amount of points in the Western division. Senior Joe Silva finished second in the Western Division in rushing yards gained, and first in points scored. With their 6-2 record, the team was ranked 9th in the state at the end of the season.

This year's Chargers did a great job. Not only did they rebuild Pearl City's football program, but they also gave pride and spirit to PCHS and its students.

Bowlers Go For A "Strike"

This was a year of rebuilding for the bowling teams. After a winning season last year most of the students this year were new comers to the team and the girls lost most of their games. Janelle Bonitacio, a senior referee said "It was like putting a whole team together and that takes a lot of patience."

Everyone had to get to know each other in order to be a team. As the season went on things got better. With all the practice, patience, hard work and pride they did their best and learned a lot too. The girls' and boys' team had one strong point which was sticking together all the way. Winning wasn't even thing to them. The main thing was that they tried their best had fun, made friends and enjoyed themselves every time they bowed.

Although this was not a winning year the teams felt that they came a long way in getting to know each other well and becoming a good unit. The teams were coached by Mrs. Ito, Nadine Yoshishige, and Kyle Kihara. Everyone felt proud of their accomplishments and they all look forward to next year with optimism and hope of another chance at the state championships.

JV Volleyball Hits The Top

This year's girls J V volleyball teams were outstanding! The teams were coached by Corrine Kalilikana, Lorene Lum Ho and Miles Mosca.

The J.V. Chargerettes finished with a winning 11-0 season. The girls took the Leeward District Championships and then tried for the Western Division, but lost to Aiea 15-13, 5-14, and 13-11.

All the players gave 110%. They practiced hard everyday after school from 4:00-7:00 pm. They thank their coaches for helping them in learning the meaning of self-discipline, responsibility, and team effort. As you see, they all have come a long way. They reached the top, and although it wasn't easy, it was worth it!

Varsity Girls Takes Tops

This year's Girls' Volleyball Team dedicated their season to Mr. Neves. They worked hard during the summer, lifting weights, running, and of course practicing on the court. Each year, they have a motto which helps them throughout their season. This year's motto was "Holōmua", which means to go beyond what you've achieved. Their goal this year was to achieve a place in the State Tournament. Through hard training, total dedication, and determination, they achieved this goal. They finished this season with a 14-0 record, as well as capturing the Leeward District, OIA Western Division, and placing 2nd in the State Tournament. Congratulations, girls, on a job well done!

Boys' Volleyball Spikes Into Action

The Boys' Volleyball team practiced hard since the first week of August. For a team that had little experience, they came a long way. Capturing the Leeward District as well as the OIA Western Division, they also dedicated their season to Mr. Neves. Their practices consisted of court work. With drill after drill, they began to understand the game. With a lot of determination, commitment, and team work, they ended the season with a 14-2 record.

Cross Country Goes All The Way To Win

Another sport that did extremely well this year was Cross Country. Mr. Martin, the coach, did a good job in making the team a winner.

The boys' team had eight varsity members and six junior varsity members. Winning the Leeward District title against Waianae, the boys did so well that they were only two points away from a perfect score. Aaron Aragaki, a Junior, placed first with a time of 18 minutes 38 seconds. Second was Brandon Wanket finishing with a time of 19 minutes 15 seconds and Carlos Whitney was third with 19 minutes and 38 seconds. Their performance was spectacular.

The junior varsity boys were also outstanding with a perfect score. Pearl City got 1st through 5th places. Paul Malone, a Sophomore, won with a time of 19 minutes 8 seconds. Following him were Greg Hurd, Derrick Higa, Nathan Aragaki, and Kelvin Paresa.

The only girl on the whole team was junior Valerie Morimoto. She pulled her fair share by winning in the two mile run. She did it in an outstanding time of 15 minutes 21 seconds.

This year's Cross Country team came a long way and dominated everyone. Congratulations on an outstanding job!

"Love" Means Nothing To Soft Tennis

This year's soft tennis team came a long way in learning new skills. The team was coached by Mr. Fukuda, Pearl City High's horticulture teacher. He received a great deal of pleasure working with this year's students. Although it was not a winning season, he was proud of how hard they tried.

The boys and girls started the season with hopes of winning all their games. The boys beat Kailua, and the girls beat Moanalua. As the season went on, some players got injured and this caused a lot of drop outs. The season did not end exactly as they had dreamed, but the team gave it their best and they always encouraged each other.

Soft tennis helped the students in many ways. Kristine Inouye said, "It has helped me meet new people from other schools." Angie Dioguardi, a newcomer said, "We have learned to pull together as a team and try our best." All the players said, "It was hard practice and the games were tough, but we gave it all we had and we had fun, too!"

Splash, Splash Swim Team

This year, the Swim Team had a different season because the scoring system was changed. The original scoring was ranked from 1st to 8th place. Now, the scoring is from 1st to 5th place. Even with the new scoring system, the team, made up of four girls and four boys, did well. Everyone gave it their best from Pre-season, to West Champs, O.I.A. Champs, and even to State Champs! They learned team spirit, pride, determination, and how to enjoy themselves, too. The Swim Team has come a long way in many ways. Everyone has a different story of how far he or she has come this season.

Congratulations to the PCHS Swim Team!

In his second year as Pearl City's starting third baseman, Sheldon Yoshida can only get better. Encouraged by his parents, he started playing Little League baseball in the eighth grade. Coach Uyema helped him to develop the fundamentals. In the beginning, he had a difficult time fielding, but after a lot of practice, he has turned it into one of his strengths. He'd like to continue playing baseball, hopefully for the University of Hawaii. Playing baseball allowed him to meet a lot of people and make more friends. "I'd like to thank my coaches and teammates for making my years here at Pearl City fun and enjoyable."

Chargers, You've Got It: Total Control

The Charger Basketball Team had a tough job to do this year. After losing 5 valuable seniors from last year's squad, the team had to come back to defend their Western Division title and fourth place finish in the state tournament, and they did it! This year's team consisted of 12 teammates, 10 of which were seniors and 2 juniors. Every year, the team sets the goal to go to the state tournament and play in the championship game. They headed in that direction with the attitude to do even better than last year. They started out by opening their season with a 39-21 victory over Waipahu.

Junior Vars. Believes In Team Work

With try-outs starting in October, 1986, our junior varsity basketball team dribbled their way through a tough season. Facing many I.L.H. teams in their pre-season, the team was ready and willing to face the challenge of any and all competition. Under the new coaching of Al Tivera, our junior varsity team proved that practicing hard with a lot of determination and devotion helped lead them straight to the top.

Girls' Basketball Shoots For The Top!

For many years basketball was a man's sport. But in recent years, the women have been getting involved and are making this male dominated sport a women's sport.

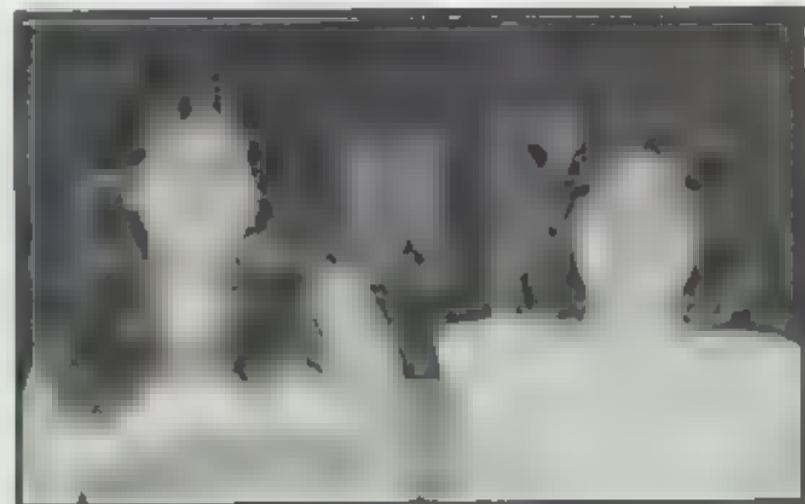

At Pearl City High School, our Girls' Basketball Team proved that females can play in this aggressive sport also. Our girls played tough throughout the season and gave their all. They started the season slowly, but in their third game, they literally "blew away" district opponent Waianae by a score of 53-28. Their pride, determination and stamina proved helpful as they made their mark on this "so called" man's sport.

Softball Fields Another Winning Season

New head coach Wes Uyehara was successful in improving the girls' softball team record to 7-7. Four-year letterman and captain Cora Menor showed great form and made the OIA West All-Star with her experienced plays.

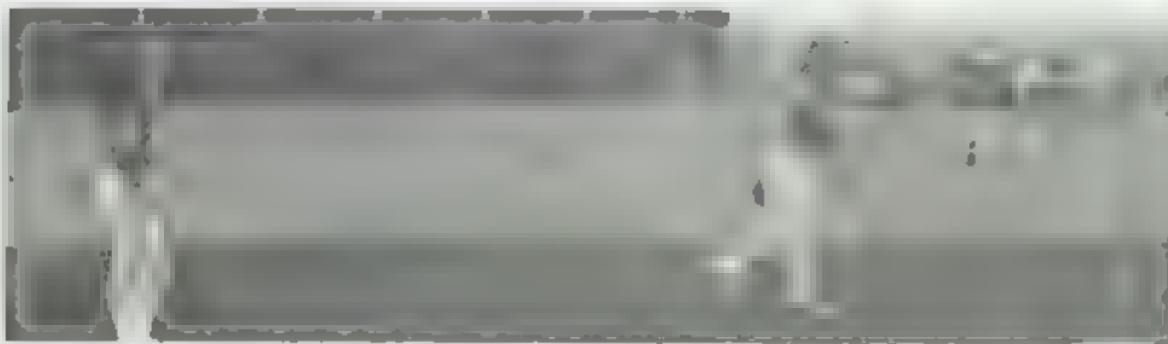

Mele Luna consistently belted out great performances in the bullpen. Tammy Tokuhara ended the season with the most RBI's. Finishing the season with a .330 batting average was Vanessa Lacson. LeeAnn Nakasone, despite pulled ligaments, also played well.

The softball girls wrapped up a satisfying and power packed season.

Judokas Flip Over Their Opponents

Under the guidance of Head Coach Ivan Yoshimura, the 1986-87 Judo Team had another winning season. Assisting Yoshimura were Jason Katoda, Ryan Kaneshiro, and Bert Shiosaki.

The practices included 300 pushups, crunches, mat work, and running. The team also played dodge ball to help improve reflexes.

Tri-captains of the team were Wade Jakahi, Tammy Tokuhara, and Brad Takuishi. The key members were Takuishi, Ronnie Dorsey, Peter Shiosaki, and Blayne Takemoto.

Team work, combined with hard work paid off in a worthwhile season.

Tennis Makes A Racquet About Winning

Although an under-publicized sport, the Pearl City High School tennis team still made their mark. Under the coaching of Glen Miyasato, the 16 member boys' team successfully defended their title and once again won the OIA Western Division Championship. In spite of a somewhat disappointing season, the 6 member girls' team, led by coach Dawn Clark, played hard throughout the season and represented P C. well at all their matches.

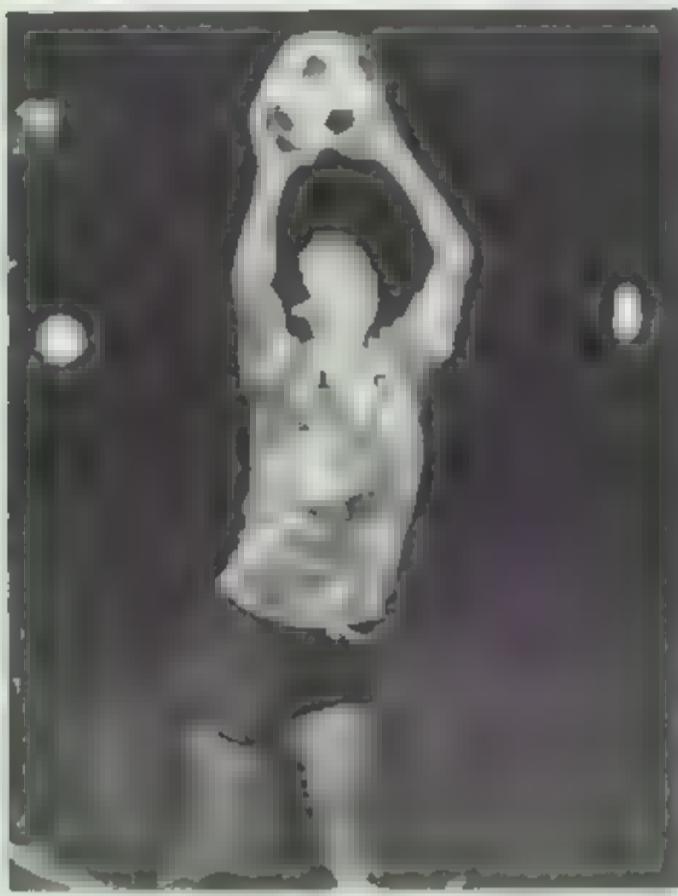

Congratulations to the teams and coaches on a fine season!

Soccer Meets Its Goal

Soccer is now becoming one of the most popular sports around. This game of speed, skill, and stamina continued its tradition of success at P C H S. Once again both boys' and girls' teams made it to the OIA Tournament. The girls took the runner-up spot in their division and the boys took the Western Division Championship.

The girls' team co-captain, Lisa Miyashiro, sends this message to the team: "Hey soccer girls! I just wanted to say thanks for a mega-awesome season. I know we went through a lot, but I want to tell you something, IT WAS WORTH IT!! And always remember... we are the "elite" Chargers of P C H. P. S. Watch the bruises!"

A Pin For The Chargers

In December of 1986, about 40 boys accepted the physical and mental challenges that come with wrestling. Grueling practices filled with exercising, running, and wrestling drills kept our boys in top shape to "pin" the competition.

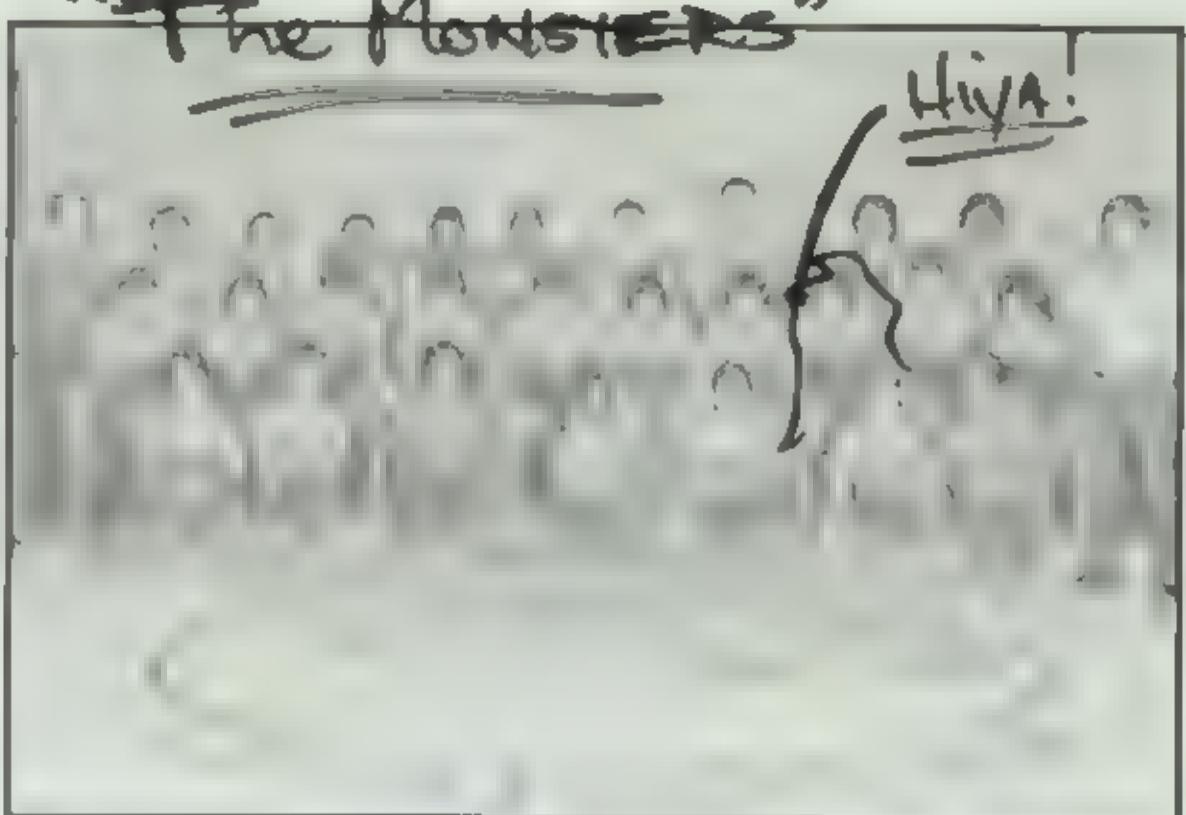

Strength, agility, skill, and determination are big factors in the success of a wrestler. Although the rest of the team is there for encouragement, when the match starts, it's the wrestler himself who will determine the outcome of the match.

Track

After struggling through practices, our track team proved to the school that team work is really what it's all about. Even through they practiced through the hot, sunny days and slogged their way through the rainy days, the untiring track team pulled through once again. With the determination of the members and with the support from the coaches, nothing seemed impossible! Their goal was to strive for excellence in all that they do. They achieved their goals and proved to themselves as well as others, that nothing is impossible.

Look How Far We've Come

FROM

COUNTRY

Can you imagine attending Locodilly High School? When B.F. Dillingham, owner of the Oahu Railway and Land Co., decided to develop Oahu's first new community he sponsored a contest to name the new town. One of the entries was Locodilly. "Loco" was a misspelling of the Hawaiian "loko" for "loch" referring to the inlets of the near-by harbor, and "Dilly" was added as a tribute to Dillingham. Fortunately for us all this name was not selected.

Mrs. Nova-Jean McKenzie, a teacher of Hawaiian Studies and Hawaiian language, researched some of the early beginnings of Pearl City and reminds us about its history and events of the past in the following essay.

Pearl City, Look How Far We've Come by Nova-Jean McKenzie

For twelve years, most of us have enjoyed the security of our schools in Pearl City, and for at least four years, the tranquility and peacefulness of Pearl City High School. Situated on the hillside overlooking Pearl Harbor, there are no pictures, no tales, no descriptions that compete with our feelings for this little community that has grown from a little rural town to a suburb of Honolulu. The lagoon, or Pearl Lochs, have gone from a lagoon teeming with fish, which supplied the markets of Honolulu, to a world-reckoned harbor that supports our defense system of the U.S. Navy. Pearl City has become one of the most delightful spots on the island and became accessible to the first original home seekers by the building of the Oahu Railway and Land Company. In addition to homes, the first rice mill on the line was located at Waiau, ten miles from Honolulu.

A spur of Pearl City extends to the peninsula and this area afforded an ideal location for a home on the water. Every home was embowered by trees and almost everyone had a water frontage. All delighted in pastimes such as bathing, boating, and fishing. There was a large pavilion where dance parties were held and the atmosphere and scenes suggested sheer pleasure.

Today, the rice mill on the line is no more, and in its place, Hawaiian Electric Company stands to serve the electrical needs for Leeward residents. Cane fields have given way to businesses and residences, and the peninsula which boasted the landing site of Pan America's Clipper Fleet has become a housing area for navy personnel. Today, only a few residents remember the days of yachting or boating in Pearl Harbor. Gone are the beautiful homes on the peninsula that were sprawled over large tracts of coconut trees, monkey pod, lehua, and poinciana. Gone is the little train station that housed the first post office, and gone is the Waterhouse Chapel that sat on the corner of Lehua and Third Street. Even now a new building is replacing the old Bob's Bakery and Chubby's Liquors. Did you know that the old poi factory once existed at that very spot?

And so Hail a Aloha presents a short story, honoring our little community of Pearl City. We chuckle to know that people used to refer to Pearl City as being "out in the country". How many of us ever realized the destiny of our "country life" in a city. If we move on, we may forget. If we stay, we too will look back on it all and say, "That's not the Pearl City I once knew."

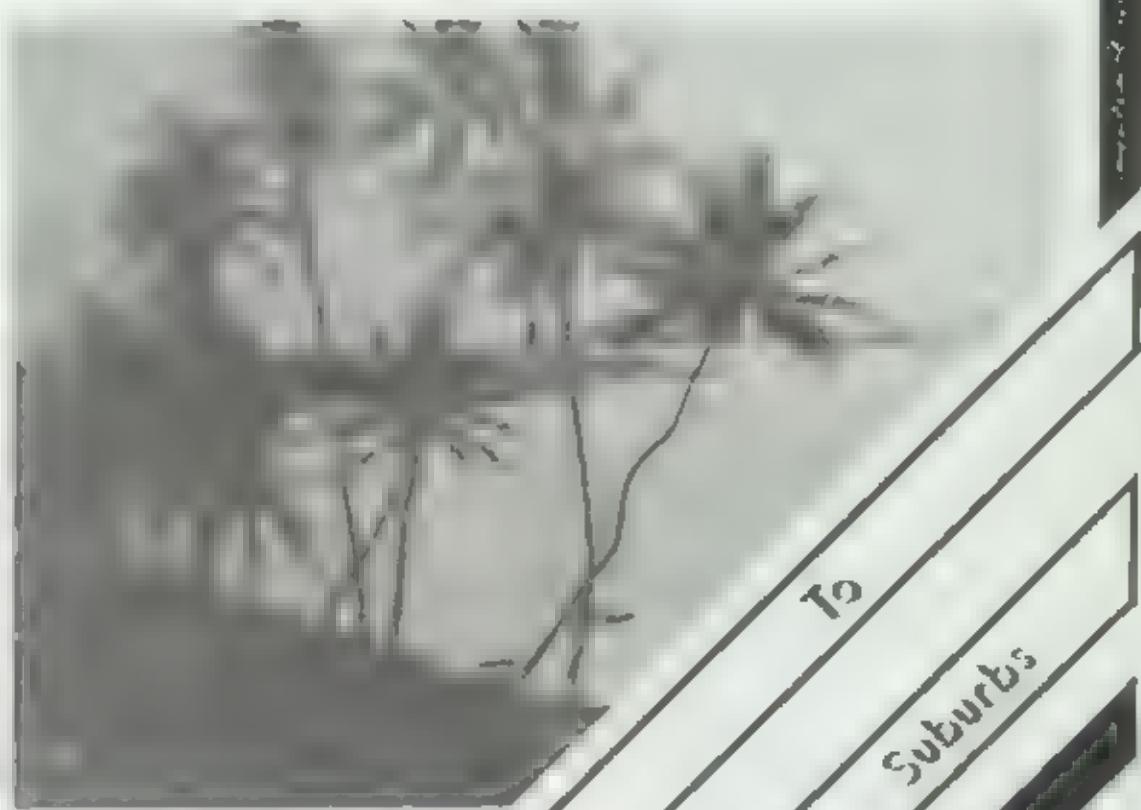

Jharon,
Hi! And how are you? Fine i hope!! Well how was your Freshmen year? It went great for me! Just wanted to say that it was nice knowing you this year! Stay cool and take care!!

HILLSIDE

Memories of the First Year at PCHS
by Dave Langen, English

Ninth graders everywhere. You could see them squirming in their seats or observing the men in white clothes grind and polish the walls of C Building during the breaks. The sound was that of ninth graders squealing, arguing, laughing, fighting — girl fights mostly with hair pulling and blouse grabbing — and there was the sound of cement walls being sanded, ground, polished. There were big machines rumbling and groaning as the school was being built, and in time, there was the ultimate smell of hot tar fusing into tar paper as the workers capped off the job.

There was the teachers' strike with all its emotions and the unrest of the students after the strike. When rumors of a teachers' strike began in the spring of 1971, a whole gang gathered by my room. I could hear their murmers, plans, and complaints. Finally, at a given moment, all the classes broke up. The entire student body left the campus. It was Hawaii's first student strike. We just watched them go. I saw ninth grader Becky Pantorilla on tv that night talking to the anchor person down at Highlands Intermediate and saying, "If the teachers can strike so can we."

School was loose and friendly back then. We could see a student strike as a learning experience. Lammy Ching was the soul of the school, and smiling Libert O'Sullivan was his guardian angel. If kids felt like cutting class, they'd go tell Libert about it. He'd have them run errands. Libert and Lammy gave what they had. Libert's picture hangs on the wall of the Blood Bank of Hawaii. He's still giving.

I'll never forget Lammy Ching telling two ninth grade titas that recess was over. The girls were soaking wet from water balloons and were fighting at the water fountain in good spirits.

Lammy said, "Girls, it's time for class."

The girls smiled and shouted, "Okay, just one more balloon."

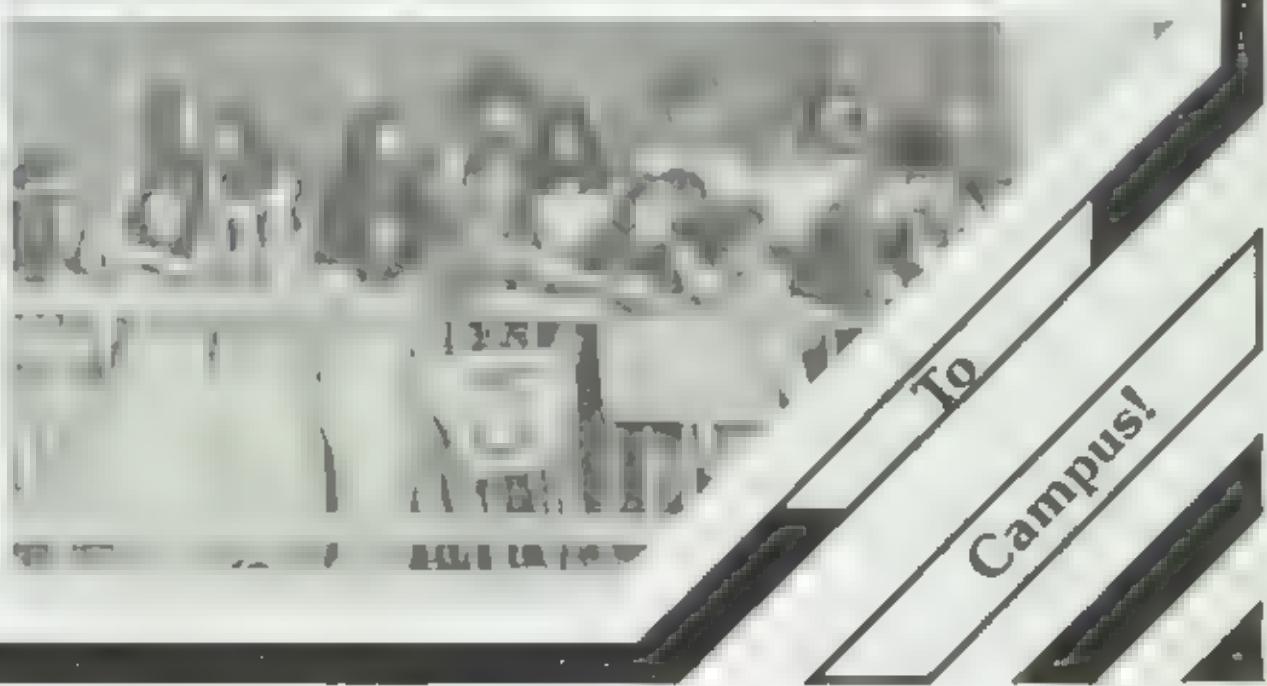

Lammy smiled a Jimmy Carter embarrassed smile and said, "You really should get to class. Your teachers will be starting without you."

The girls kept filling their last balloons and said, "We're almost done! One more!"

Lammy said, "You said that was the last. Come on, you're really not supposed to be playing with water balloons, anyway."

Eventually they were all in class, and Lammy Ching went back to his office in Mrs. Ishihara's room, and the wet halls evaporated in the warm Hawaiian sun, and the silence of the late morning was broken only by the sounds of men in white clothes grinding, sanding, and polishing the walls of C Building.

FROM X-19

Fashions have certainly changed over the past 16 years. In 1971-72, the first year at Pearl City High School, the fashions were still influenced by the Hippie movement of the 1960's. There was still a dress code. The girls' mini-skirts could not be shorter than the length of their fingertips when their arms were held down at their sides. Because skirt lengths were so short, the local girls often wore shorts underneath their dresses. Boys still wore slightly bell-bottomed pants in stripes and plaids, as well as in solid colors. Long hair for both sexes was in vogue. Most students wore their hair "middle comb" and straight. Double knits and polyester fabrics were in style because they were "wash and wear." There was a stronger trend to conformity and everyone tended to dress alike, even the adults.

Pictures from the past bring many memories. These pictures from the first years of Pearl City High School show the clothing styles and accessories.

The original PCHS Staff remembers

Glimpses From The Past

Pearl City High School had a humble beginning with only 640 ninth graders housed in A-B building. Over the years we have added students and facilities, until we now have an enrollment of over 2300 students and we now see the completion of the last increment of the physical plant, the construction of the stadium. The early years were short on facilities, but long on "heart." Some of the original teachers fondly recall the first year at Pearl City High School.

"We all (teachers, students, and administrators) went on field trips together." — Miss Tsugawa, Social Studies

"The healthroom was where Mr. Kenney is now, and my classroom was where Mr. Hisanaga is now. The partition was not up to the ceiling so students in the healthroom used to look over into my room." — Mrs. Tavares, Math

"The science labs without table tops, burners, and water. The little chairs in most classes from the feeder elementary schools. (Our furniture did not arrive until Oct. or Nov.) Students walking into an empty typing room — no typewriters, chairs, or tables." — Mrs. Ogawa, Business

"Lunches were trucked in from another school's cafeteria, served from B204, and eaten anywhere on campus, including in the girls' bathroom where toilet lids were used as dining table tops." — Mrs. Migita, Attendance

"We used to eat in our classrooms. We had to scrape off unwanted food in 'slop' pails. Every day a student had to deliver those pails to B204. Ugh! What a chore that was!"

"Once some cattle and pheasants wandered up to the parking lot. Our VP O'Sullivan had to act as a cowboy to chase the cattle away."

"There were no shower facilities that first year. A big parachute was used to cloak the students while they were sprayed with a garden hose." — Mrs. Aranita, English

"A101 has come a long way — it has housed band, chorus and now, drama students. In the early years, Tom Sawyer was accompanied with music which floated and sometimes screeched out of A101 all the way up to the 4th floor."

"PTSA meetings were special. They were held in A-B Courtyard. Teachers would get together after the meeting down at Pizza Hut. That's how Mr. Abe and I met, over pizza and coke." — Mrs. Abe, English

"Starting school at 8:30, band kids came early. It was nice coming at 8:00 and hearing the band playing in A101, especially at Christmas time."

"Winning the first Love's Bread Bags Contest with only our few students. At that time, there were no divisions by the size of the school."

"Sending runners to the entire school, and being able to make a school wide announcement in 10 minutes without a PA system."

"The first May Fair was called the Sunshine Affair with speakers from the community."

"We had the only yearbook in the nation for one grade level." — Mrs. Ishihara, Student Activities

The world of fashion of the 1980's became a multi-cultured style of fashion, as Paris, Japan Italia, London, and New York spread the uniqueness of each country's style around the world. Fashion utilizes a combination of cotton, knit, polyester, and metallic, and styles range from casual and sporty to luxurious and sophisticated. As quoted from the World Book 1986, "Fashion became permissive, welcoming a variety of shapes and lengths and a broad spectrum of colors." We have a great variety with long hemlines to very short ones, and clingy draped dressing to oversized costumes.

Fashion and fads have increased in demand as fashion has become one of the most important aspects of life. Designers such as Donna Karan, Valentino, Giorgio Armani, Klein and others have become successful and well known.

From Hipp to Rad, fashions and fads are not only in clothing but in accessories, appearance, and a growth in individuality around the world. Celebrities are still the trendsetters, but the individual is free to choose his or her own personal statement. The total picture is a mix of old and new, traditional and outlandish. So whether you dig in your pocket to pay for designer clothes or dig in your parents' closet, you can still be well dressed and in style.

Center Picture: Alicia Nobrega, Laverne Ishihara, Maile Lum and Stephanie Shata wear the casual look for school. Clockwise From Top To Bottom: Lisa Maruyama, Iris Uemoto and Cindie Takayama not only pose in the latest school style but show the newest in accessories in bags, belts and shoes. 2. Lisa Miyashiro and Christina Oshiro show the newest style in clothing. Lisa is dressed in the latest Benetton style with a casual touch of jeans, and Christina looks more sophisticated with the creation she has put together. 3. Printed sweat shirts and sweaters are a big rage and are worn by Leilani Vilabois and Mik MacCallen. 4. Debbie Bagano one of the trendiest girls in school poses in the newest funk rock style with chain bracelets and an ever changing kaleidoscope of hair colors. 5. Burr Suttler and Kyle Shimabukuro dress in style with blazers, tails, and of course, Kyle with his sunglasses.

Glimpses

"Since the head custodian at that time was left handed, he put the pencil sharpeners on with the handles on the wrong side, and students had to cross their arms to sharpen their pencils."

"PC High's athletic department had no money to equip the teams, so everything had to be bought. Mr. Neves' quip was that they were going to paint two charge cards on either side of the football helmet for our charger logo." — Miss Sakamoto, Counselor

The closeness of the students and faculty (only about 25 teachers!) Knowing all the teachers and other staff members

"The teachers wearing mini-skirts to school!" — Mrs. McGrew Spanish

I remember the smallness of the school, the animals that roamed around campus during PE classes and football practice. Our PE facilities — one portable to dress and shower (in the 2nd year), in which the showers never worked; our PE field was where the administration building is now. I remember patients roaming our campus practically every day, and some of the problems we had with them." — Mr. Francis PE

"The office was in the student activities room. We hosed everybody down in swim suits after PE classes. PE was held in the teachers parking lot." — Mrs. Diaz, PE

The teachers were very active and took part in student activities in intramural volleyball and football. Even the women teachers challenged the girls in flag football." — Mrs. Hirooka, Science We've come a long, long way baby! Picture the library in B306-B307 with the total library collection reflected in a single card catalog drawer! But, oh, the wonderful, glorious, nostalgic memories of the first year at PCHS!" — Mrs. Arakawa, Library Four of us in the Math Department worked hard to meet the needs of our students. But because of the limited number of sections per period, we often had to teach multiple sections so that we could accommodate our future leaders of tomorrow. I appreciated the smallness of the school, but life was hectic. We had to meet the needs of our present student body, as well as prepare for a triple expansion the following year." — Mrs. Nagao, Math

I remember a dance that was held in A-B Courtyard. The usually shy students were even more reluctant to dance since it was in the bright sunny afternoon. The concrete was also hard to dance on.

I was in charge of campus beautification, and our committee decided to paint happy faces on all the trash cans.

Many of the teachers had coffee together in the Business workroom during recess. There was a nice comradery." — Mrs. Ellis, English

A whiteboard with handwritten mathematical work. The problem is  $\frac{1}{2} \times 10 = ?$ . The student has written  $\frac{1}{2} \times 10 = 5$  and then  $\frac{1}{2} \times 10 = 5$  again below it. There is also some other handwriting and a small drawing of a person at the bottom.
